

Oxford IBD Masterclass 2017

Personalised Care in IBD: The interface between Science and Practice

(Including WebCast to East Asia)

10–12 September 2017 | University Examination Schools, Oxford, UK

MONDAY 11TH SEP 2017

8:30	Welcome	Simon Travis
------	---------	--------------

Personalised medicine

Simon Travis/Simon Leedham

8:40	Is personalised medicine hype or reality?	Sir Peter Ratcliffe (London)
------	---	------------------------------

9:05	My MAITs: are T-cells the key to tailored therapy?	Paul Klenerman (Oxford)
------	--	-------------------------

9:30	Lessons for IBD from multiple sclerosis and other conditions	Gabriele De Luca (Oxford)
------	--	---------------------------

9:55	Molecular stratification of IBD	Subrata Ghosh (Birmingham)
------	---------------------------------	----------------------------

10:20 Break

Predicting patterns of disease

Alessandra Geremia/Holm Uhlig

10:50	Clinical predictors in Crohn's: who is going to do badly?	Florian Rieder (Cleveland, OH)
-------	---	--------------------------------

11:15	Predictors of poor outcomes in UC	Miles Parkes (Cambridge)
-------	-----------------------------------	--------------------------

11:40	Deconvoluting pathotypes of IBD through single cell technology	Alison Simmons (Oxford)
-------	--	-------------------------

12:05	Who is going to get cancer?	Trevor Graham (London)
-------	-----------------------------	------------------------

12:30 Lunch

Continued on next page

Oxford IBD Masterclass 2017

Personalised Care in IBD: The interface between Science and Practice

(Including WebCast to East Asia)

10–12 September 2017 | University Examination Schools, Oxford, UK

MONDAY 11TH SEP 2017 (Continued)

Predicting drug responsiveness and adverse events		Rebecca Palmer/Alissa Walsh
14:00	Who responds to mesalazine, steroids, or azathioprine?	Peter Irving (London)
14:20	Predicting response to anti-TNF therapy	Nathan West (Oxford)
14:45	Predicting response to anti-integrin therapy	Severine Vermeire (Leuven)
15:10	Checkpoint inhibitor colitis	Oliver Brain (Oxford)
15:30	Break
Clinical trial design for personalised care		Satish Keshav/ Oliver Brain
16:00	Patient-reported outcomes: the new metric	Vip Jairath (Canada)
16:25	Randomised controlled trials: is the gold standard tarnished?	Filip Baert (Belgium)
16:50	Converting trial results to personal practice in IBD	Ailsa Hart (London)
The Truelove Lecture		Paul Klenerman/Simon Travis
17:15	Mutual benefit from our microbiota: quis custodiet?	Andrew MacPherson (Bern)
18:00	Close Day 1
18:30	Reception and dinner	Exeter College

Continued on next page

Oxford IBD Masterclass 2017

Personalised Care in IBD: The interface between Science and Practice

(Including WebCast to East Asia)

10–12 September 2017 | University Examination Schools, Oxford, UK

TUESDAY 12TH SEP 2017

08:30 Workshops: select a choice of two, change over between 09:15-09:20

- | | | |
|----|--|---|
| 1. | How we do it: Manage high output stomas | Phil Allan/Lisa Vokes |
| 2. | How I do it: Perform surveillance chromoendoscopy | James East (Oxford) |
| 3. | How we do it: Transition care of young people with IBD | Rebecca Palmer/
Astor Rodrigues (Oxford) |
| 4. | How I do it: Decide whether an ileostomy is necessary | Oliver Brain (Oxford) |
| 5. | How we did & do it: Set up & manage the database and biobank | Carolina Arancibia/Jennifer Hollis (Oxford) |
| 6. | How we do it: EUA and seton insertion for perianal Crohn's | Richard Guy/Kim Gorissen (Oxford) |
| 7. | How we do it: Run the virtual biologics clinic | Oliver Brain/Sarah Cripps (Oxford) |
| 8. | How I do it: Decide about post-operative maintenance therapy | Alissa Walsh (Sydney) |

OR

08:30 Real time Lab time: How to process samples and analyse FACS

Tom Chapman/Tim Ambrose/Stephanie Slevin/Sujata Biswas
(as a single module, max 6 people, meeting at John Radcliffe Hospital, Headington)

OR

08:30 Endpoints and outcomes in IBD clinical trials (for Industry partners, 08:30-10:00)

Vip Jairath (Canada)

Continued on next page

Oxford IBD Masterclass 2017

Personalised Care in IBD: The interface between Science and Practice

(Including WebCast to East Asia)

10–12 September 2017 | University Examination Schools, Oxford, UK

TUESDAY 12TH SEP 2017 (Continued)

10:00 Break

Cancer corner

Des De Silva /Vip Jairath

10:30 Stratification of colitis-associated cancer: lessons from sporadic disease Simon Leedham (Oxford)

10:55 Personalised strategies for colonoscopic surveillance James East (Oxford)

Patients matter most

Bruce George/Kim Gorissen

11:35 Treating patients with IBD: tearful, tired and trying Satish Keshav (Oxford)

12:00 Harnessing patient power: impact of realtime data collection Alissa Walsh (Sydney)

12:25 State of the Art: 40 years of pouch surgery John Nicholls (London)

12:55 Closing remarks Paul Klenerman (Oxford)

13:00 Buffet lunch Examination Halls
