

EARLY IBD: THE CLINICAL SCIENCE OF IBD IN PRACTICE*PROGRAMME*MONDAY 19 SEPTEMBER

07:45	Registration, University Examination Schools, Oxford
08:30	Welcome	Simon Travis (Oxford, UK)
	Pathogenesis of early IBD	Jack Satsangi / Ellie Barnes
08:40	Do monogenic disorders inform the causes of IBD?	Holm Uhlig (Oxford, UK)
09:05	T-cell function in IBD	Paul Klenerman (Oxford, UK)
09:30	Do cytokine pathways change with the duration of disease?	Alessandra Geremia (Oxford, UK)
09:55	Can carcinogenesis be prevented at an early stage?	Simon Leedham (Oxford, UK)
10:20	Coffee
	The exposome and IBD	Satish Keshav / Alessandra Geremia
10:50	Impact of rural-urban migration on the microbiota	Vineet Ahuja (Delhi, India)
11:10	Can diet influence the gut microbiome and gene expression in IBD?	Rob Bryant (Adelaide, Australia)
11:30	Biting the bugs: bacteriophages and their potential in IBD	Pierre Desreumaux (Lille, France)
	Early diagnosis	Satish Keshav / Alessandra Geremia
11:55	Pre-diagnosis: are twins the real GEM?	Marcus Harbord (London, UK)
12:20	Red flags for IBD: fast-tracking diagnosis in primary care	Gionata Fiorino (Milan, Italy)
12:45	Lunch
	Predicting the pattern and response to therapy	Beth Bird-Lieberman / Alissa Walsh
14:00	Can we expect all biosimilars to work as well as the originator?	Laurent Peyrin-Biroulet (Nancy, France)
14:20	Early therapeutic drug monitoring: should we all be at it?	Peter Irving (London, UK)
14:40	What does mucosal healing mean and does it really matter?	Alessandro Repici (Milan, Italy)
15:00	Prediction matters in acute severe colitis	Simon Travis (Oxford, UK)
15:20	Tea
	Early therapy	Oliver Brain / Kim Gorissen
15:50	N=1 clinical trials: is this the way to test therapy?	Vip Jairath (London, Ontario, Canada)
16:10	Is vedolizumab fulfilling its early promise?	James Lindsay (London, UK)
16:30	Biomarkers today and tomorrow	James Kinchen (Oxford, UK)
16:50	Ileocaecal Crohn's: does the treatment tune have a LIR!C?	Willem Bemelman (Amsterdam, Netherlands)
	The Truelove Lecture	Paul Klenerman / Simon Travis
17:15	Do epigenetics explain our children's risk of IBD?	Jack Satsangi (Edinburgh, UK)
18:00	Close
18:30	Reception and dinner	Balliol College

Oxford IBD MasterClass 2016

19-20 September 2016 | Examination Schools, Oxford, UK

TUESDAY 20 SEPTEMBER

07:45 Registration, University Examination Schools, Oxford

Workshops: select a choice of two (change over between 09:15–09:20)

08:30	1. Anaemia and IBD: early intervention and treatment options	John Ryan (Oxford, UK)
	2. Perianal Crohn's disease: combined management	Bruce George (Oxford, UK)
	3. IBD specialist nursing: new patient clinics	Lydia White / Charlotte Bratt (Oxford, UK)
	4. What IBD physicians need to know about surgery	Richard Guy (Oxford, UK)
	5. Ileostomy dysfunction: how to manage it	Tim Ambrose / Phil Allan (Oxford, UK)
	6. Beyond transition: young people with IBD	Rebecca Palmer / Astor Rodrigues (Oxford, UK)
	7. Diet and IBD-IBS: what doctors need to know	Lisa Vokes / Emily Johns (Oxford / High Wycombe, UK)
	8. Adalimumab, golimumab, or infliximab: how do you choose?	Des De Silva (Reading, UK)
	9. Early PSC: how should I treat my patients?	Kate Williamson (Adelaide, Australia)
Or industry workshop
08:30	Managing the interface between academia and industry	Ben Owens / Bryan Morton, CBE (Oxford, UK)
10:00	Coffee
Advanced therapy for IBD		Rebecca Palmer / Simon Travis
10:30	5ASA for all: are they best continued with biologics or IMDs?	Jeremy Sanderson (London, UK)
10:55	Back to basics: stem cell, T-cell and Paneth cell therapy	Satish Keshav (Oxford, UK)
11:15	Chess Grandmaster: positioning of ustekinumab and new molecules	Tim Orchard (London, UK)
Managing decision-making		Richard Guy / James East
11:35	PROMises for the future of quality of care in IBD	Keith Bodger (Liverpool, UK)
12:00	Day to day monitoring: INSPIRE, TrueColours and Apps in IBD	Alissa Walsh (Sydney, Australia)
12:25	State of the Art: impact of IBD databases on surgical practice	Bruce George (Oxford, UK)
12:55	Closing remarks	Paul Klenerman (Oxford, UK)
13:00	Lunch	Examination Schools

The Oxford IBD MasterClass this year is one of a trio: Very Early Onset-IBD (18 September), the IBD MasterClass on Early IBD (this programme) and the IBD Endoscopy MasterClass (20-21 September). For further information on these exciting events, please contact omc2016@leadingedgemeded-uk.com or visit www.oxfordmasterclass.org.uk and register for all three at a discount.